

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK 2017

17 January 2017 (Tuesday) | The Theatre, Bursa Malaysia, Kuala Lumpur | 9:00 a.m

As a highly open and trade-dependent economy, Malaysia's economic outlook has been clouded by uncertainties in the global economy as well as the negative effects of volatility of capital flows in the emerging market economies. Going into 2017, uncertainties over the outcome of the post EU referendum (Brexit vote) and the US Presidential Election, as well as possible anti-trade policies on China, may put downside risks to Malaysia's economy. The volatility in the financial market and Malaysia Ringgit will likely continue from the uncertainty in short-term capital flows as a result of policy interest rate hikes by US Federal Reserve.

BNM has recently announced several measures to further develop the country's onshore foreign exchange (forex) market. Malaysia's economic fundamentals will remain sound, supported by an improving economic outlook, lower fiscal deficit position, sustainable (though narrowing) current account surplus, healthy foreign exchange reserves as well as manageable inflationary pressure. What's in store for the Malaysian economy, and which sectors will support GDP growth?

THE SPEAKER

Alan Tan is the Chief Economist at Affin Hwang Investment Bank, a post he has held since 2008. His main responsibilities are to provide reports on macroeconomic analysis and forecasting, as well as regular presentations on the Malaysian economy for institutional clients. He is frequently quoted in national newspapers and publications, as well as frequent invited speaker at forums and conferences in Malaysia. He started his career as an economist with RHB Research Institute Sdn Bhd from 1991 to 1998. From 1999 to 2007, Alan worked as a Research Manager at Pengurusan Danaharta Nasional Bhd, the country's national asset management company, and later at Prokhas Sdn Bhd, a company wholly owned by the Ministry of Finance, Malaysia. Alan has a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration (BBA) and Master's degree in Economics (MA) from the University of Memphis, US.
