ESG & Climate Trends to Watch for in 2023

The advisers for this session:

MSCI

"We're heading into the new year against a backdrop of a major war in Europe, inflation, cost-of-living crises, energy markets in turmoil, rising interest rates, pandemic fatigue, political uncertainty and what feels like an unending stream of climate-induced disasters.

With everything that is happening around us, what specifically will you be watching in 2023, and why?"

Join this webinar by MSCI to find out what are the key ESG themes in 2023 and get insights on how to plan for them in your Sustainability strategy.

About the Speakers

Miranda Carr, Executive Director, ESG Research, APAC

Miranda, who joined MSCI in January 2021, is Head of Applied ESG Research, with a focus on the key issues and developments in ESG in the Asian region. She is also developing ESG integration frameworks for key APAC clients.

Prior to joining MSCI, Miranda was Senior ESG Analyst at Haitong International, one of China's largest securities companies, where she worked from 2015-20 and launched their 'ESG in Asia' research product. Before that, she spent 8 years analyzing Chinese government policy and investment strategy as Head of Research for an independent research company, NSBO, in London/Beijing.

Rohit Agarwal, Vice President & Head of ESG Issuer Relations, APAC

He joined MSCI in 2022 and drives strategic engagement and education with issuers and stakeholders in the region, in addition to supporting MSCI to accelerate the transformation with issuers globally.

Prior to MSCI, Rohit worked at Fitch Ratings in their business and relationship management team covering credit and ESG outreach for key institutional investors in ASEAN. Earlier in his career, he spent time at Deutsche Bank in Singapore as well as J.P. Morgan in Mumbai, India.
