PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES

The Annual General Meeting (AGM) of public listed companies (PLCs) often is the only event in the year that allows shareholders, especially minority shareholders with limited voting powers to meet and engage with board members and key management of the company. As such, genuine efforts should be made to ensure that the meeting is effective, meaningful and congenial for all shareholders or their proxies.

The program is to highlight both commendable practices as well as pitfalls experienced by some Malaysian PLCs in the past. The objective of the program is to help PLCs enhance their experience in engaging with shareholders via AGM by adopting the commendable practices or avoiding pitfalls experienced by other PLCs, where applicable. Effective engagement with shareholders via AGM does not restrict to the conduct during the AGM, instead it starts from preparation works before the meeting and includes communication with the participants after the meeting.

As the focus of the program is on practical aspects of the subject, no theory or detailed technical issues will be covered. Real cases would be used throughout the program.

The learning outcomes are as follows:

- Understand the significance of AGM beyond the Regulatory Requirements
- Close the expectation gap between Company and shareholders on the conduct of the AGM
- Have an insight of the keys that make a meaningful and congenial AGM for both Company and shareholders
- Improved governance and management aspects of the AGM conducted by the Company
